To Whom It May Concern,

Victor Kline directed me in a co-op play called "Just Another Tuesday Night" by Natalie Lopes. This was part of "The Journey Into Sin", a series of four half hour plays performed at the Newtown Theatre in August of 2007.

I found my character quite challenging as I had to play a murderer, seemingly with little motive. Victor created a very safe work environment and cast a tight and cohesive group of actors. He is able to take charge with a strong direction in mind, but also has the humility to be open to new ideas from the cast and crew. I feel that Victor has the sensibility and instincts to be a great director, and wish him all the best for his future.

Please feel free to contact me regarding Victor if you would like any more information.

Yours sincerely,

Pearl Tan
